

LOUISVILLE:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

News by the Mails.

THE STATE.

Protracted meetings throughout the State.

Lewisburg has 2,500 gallons of bonded whisky.

Lexington didn't observe Thanksgiving day-march.

Seven cents is the ruling price for hams in the Louisville market.

The total valuation of property in Marion county is estimated at $8,500,000.

The Mayville Eagle thinks more hatching should follow so much hatching.

Maysville is gradually becoming educated over her approaching municipal election.

Cave City is getting up a subscription to build a Catholic church at that place.

The Owensboro Monitor is surprised that the state does not establish a tobacco monolithic in that city.

Two violent conflicts of Shelly county, killed 120 rabbits one day last week, and it wasn't a good day for rabbits either.

Capt. Thos. W. Wheatley has come in to survey the turnpike route from Brooksville to Rock Spring, in Brooke county.

The population of the Second Congressional district is, whites, 147,390; blacks, 12,000. The number of firms or persons engaged in business, 21,118.

The various steamers of Owensboro are putting their houses in order preparatory to receiving the tobacco products of the planters, who are due to sail next Friday.

—The Elizabethtown Telegraph has been shown a kiln which eight perfectly formed legs, two tubs and two bodies joined together about half way between neck and tails.

—Company G of the 24 U.S. infantry, stationed at Danville for the last two years, has been transferred to Union, West Virginia, and its place supplied by another company of the same regiment.

—Another soldier threw his brains out in Danville a few days ago. He had been acting as orderly for Maj. McLaughlin, and was shot through the head while on duty.

—The Mayville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage, that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog's tail,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento presint, will soon have secured enough of their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down last week by Messes. Chase & Wells, about four and a half miles from our town on Boyd's creek. It is a flowing well and produces about thirty barrels per day, the finest quality oil."

—This is the second flow, well that these gentlemen own on land owned by them, the first of which has steadily continued for several years about forty barrels per day.

—The Shely Sentinel of the 56th, says: "One of the most remarkable instances of eloquence of which we have ever heard, occurred at Harrisonville on Friday last. Harrison J. Whitehead left an interesting wife and six children and eloped with a woman, who is his senior, the mother of three children, with whom he has eloped, and the general told him he had better try it, 'how pleasant it is to go to heaven.'

—New Haven has another quack doctor, this fellow left his wife after getting her to believe that she should not go, and now applies for a divorce, for which she appears to have reasonable grounds.

THE SOUTH.

—Jeter Phillips, the condemned, received a reprieve.

—Wolves are becoming numerous and truant in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

—The Mississippi carpet-tuggers are in session at Jackson. Look out for them.

RAILROAD MEETING.

Another Kentucky Railroad Projected.

From the New Orleans Times:

On Wednesday, the 18th, delegations from Shelby, Fayette, and Henry county, met with citizens of Louisville, to agree together as to the practicability and probability of building a railroad from Louisville to the Ohio river, and Newcastle, to connect with some already in existence.

With the participation of J. C. Caldwell, L. A. Radford, Judge J. A. Caldwell, William H. Thompson, and W. A. Holland secretary.

—New Haven has another quack doctor, this fellow left his wife after getting her to believe that she should not go, and now applies for a divorce, for which she appears to have reasonable grounds.

RAILROAD MEETING.

Another Kentucky Railroad Projected.

From the New Orleans Times:

On Wednesday, the 18th, delegations from Shelby, Fayette, and Henry county, met with citizens of Louisville, to agree together as to the practicability and probability of building a railroad from Louisville to the Ohio river, and Newcastle, to connect with some already in existence.

With the participation of J. C. Caldwell, L. A. Radford, Judge J. A. Caldwell, William H. Thompson, and W. A. Holland secretary.

—In Florida, there is no set of carpet-tuggers, but a single style themselves. The United States Postmaster of the Republican Party of Florida.

—Work on the Columbia and Augusta road has been stopped at Graniteville, S. C., because the construction grantor, the South Carolina Railroads Company.

—The New North Carolina Journal has been shown a sweet potato, grown in Craven county, measuring upwards of two feet in length and weight.

—Miss William, the wife of a St. Louis huckster, astonished that individual a few mornings since by presenting him with three new daughters and a son. The boy is said to be as good as well as could be expected.

—Gen. William M. Batts, of Benicia, Calif., used to be very suddenly taken ill, and die before his friends.

—He was on a camp hunt about twenty miles west of Albany, eat, with a party of friends, and as taken sickly and died in ten days.

—A fatality occurred on Monday morning near Stanton, Miss., between Mr. John H. Mills and Mr. Hammond, who were engaged in a game of cards in a potato patch of Mr. Mills', and the shooting is said to have been caused by a pistol.

—Arkansas is full of game, especially from every parsonage, fine, combs with the biggest tags, pashers shriek in the darkness, and the biggest hogs in the pig-pens, patrollers fly in big sides, the squirrels are gathering all the hickory nuts and denotations of the wood-pecker reverberate from every hollow tree.

—The Marion, Va., Star says: "Mr. Jackson and his brother Sidney, a lad of fifteen, were returning from the village to which they were shot and mortally wounded. They were riding in a buggy, and were shot in the back within a short distance of the house. Mr. J. R. Jackson died on Saturday morning, and his young brother was lingering in great agony at that hour."

THE NORTH.

—The "best illustrated paper out" is bank-note.

—Our River J. J. Allen's keeper has been baptised.

—Louisville's excitement in France regarding the dog.

—Sam Erman is trying to invent traps for fleas.

—Ava, W. Field has bought an estate in New Jersey.

—China sends 100,000 dollars a year on oil-fields—a certain fact.

—New York is not doing so well on marriages.

—It is what that Evans may go to the Arkansaw Man's place.

—Brigham Young, upon the use of spermaceti in his theater.

—Jenkins says Mrs. Colby is just thirty-two and weighs 140 pounds.

—Some Delaware citizens have got themselves into a difficulty.

—A few weeks ago the New York cigar manufacturers will end in smoke.

—A St. Louis husband wants a divorce because his wife throws the children at him.

—A man is led up his wife up when the water gets up, and now she is divine.

—Forney says J. J. Allen is an "impressive," but succeeds in telling out what he said himself.

—New York burglars find their own house broken into and the safe-keepers flushed out from tenement houses.

—A burglar at drug-store stopped in large rats—stole, and was caught.

—The New York paper of all nations are complaining of the completeness of the palaces of that city.

—A Buffaloman held the champion stick-up, and won $1000 with brilliants, and worth $800.

—The advanced reformers are aroused because grain was to see Humphrey's grocery store in New York.

—Lexington didn't observe Thanksgiving day-march.

—Seven cents is the ruling price for hams in the Louisville market.

—The total valuation of property in Marion county is estimated at $8,500,000.

—The Mayville Eagle thinks more hatching should follow so much hatching.

—Maysville is gradually becoming educated over her approaching municipal election.

—Cave City is getting up a subscription to build a Catholic church at that place.

—The Owensboro Monitor is surprised that the state does not establish a tobacco monolithic in that city.

—Two violent conflicts of Shelly county, killed 120 rabbits one day last week, and it wasn't a good day for rabbits either.

—Capt. Thos. W. Wheatley has come in to survey the turnpike route from Brooksville to Rock Spring, in Brooke county.

—The population of the Second Congressional district is, whites, 147,390; blacks, 12,000. The number of firms or persons engaged in business, 21,118.

—The various steamers of Owensboro are putting their houses in order preparatory to receiving the tobacco products of the planters, who are due to sail next Friday.

—A man has shown a kiln which eight perfectly formed legs, two tubs and two bodies joined together about half way between neck and tails.

—Company G of the 24 U.S. infantry, stationed at Danville for the last two years, has been transferred to Union, West Virginia, and its place supplied by another company of the same regiment.

—Another soldier threw his brains out in Danville a few days ago. He had been acting as orderly for Maj. McLaughlin, and was shot through the head while on duty.

—The Mayville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage, that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog's tail,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento presint, will soon have secured enough of their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down last week by Messes. Chase & Wells, about four and a half miles from our town on Boyd's creek. It is a flowing well and produces about thirty barrels per day, the finest quality oil."

—This is the second flow, well that these gentlemen own on land owned by them, the first of which has steadily continued for several years about forty barrels per day.

—The Shely Sentinel of the 56th, says: "One of the most remarkable instances of eloquence of which we have ever heard, occurred at Harrisonville on Friday last. Harrison J. Whitehead left an interesting wife and six children and eloped with a woman, who is his senior, the mother of three children, with whom he has eloped, and the general told him he had better try it, 'how pleasant it is to go to heaven.'

—New Haven has another quack doctor, this fellow left his wife after getting her to believe that she should not go, and now applies for a divorce, for which she appears to have reasonable grounds.

Monetary and Commercial.

PRICE OF THE LOUISVILLE AND NEW YORK.

FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 27.

With this evening's report we close our review of the market, and can start business with the intermission of Thanksgiving day, has been fair in all respects, active in hogs and pork packing, and quite buoyant for cotton. The supply of the latter staple has been enough, though it is as previous weeks, with small stocks in dealers' hands, and worth $800.

—The advanced reformers are aroused because grain was to see Humphrey's grocery store in New York.

—Lexington didn't observe Thanksgiving day-march.

—Seven cents is the ruling price for hams in the Louisville market.

—The total valuation of property in Marion county is estimated at $8,500,000.

—The Mayville Eagle thinks more hatching should follow so much hatching.

—Maysville is gradually becoming educated over her approaching municipal election.

—Cave City is getting up a subscription to build a Catholic church at that place.

—The Owensboro Monitor is surprised that the state does not establish a tobacco monolithic in that city.

—Two violent conflicts of Shelly county, killed 120 rabbits one day last week, and it wasn't a good day for rabbits either.

—Capt. Thos. W. Wheatley has come in to survey the turnpike route from Brooksville to Rock Spring, in Brooke county.

—The population of the Second Congressional district is, whites, 147,390; blacks, 12,000. The number of firms or persons engaged in business, 21,118.

—The various steamers of Owensboro are putting their houses in order preparatory to receiving the tobacco products of the planters, who are due to sail next Friday.

—A man has shown a kiln which eight perfectly formed legs, two tubs and two bodies joined together about half way between neck and tails.

—Company G of the 24 U.S. infantry, stationed at Danville for the last two years, has been transferred to Union, West Virginia, and its place supplied by another company of the same regiment.

—Another soldier threw his brains out in Danville a few days ago. He had been acting as orderly for Maj. McLaughlin, and was shot through the head while on duty.

—The Mayville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage, that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog's tail,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento presint, will soon have secured enough of their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down last week by Messes. Chase & Wells, about four and a half miles from our town on Boyd's creek. It is a flowing well and produces about thirty barrels per day, the finest quality oil."

—This is the second flow, well that these gentlemen own on land owned by them, the first of which has steadily continued for several years about forty barrels per day.

—The Shely Sentinel of the 56th, says: "One of the most remarkable instances of eloquence of which we have ever heard, occurred at Harrisonville on Friday last. Harrison J. Whitehead left an interesting wife and six children and eloped with a woman, who is his senior, the mother of three children, with whom he has eloped, and the general told him he had better try it, 'how pleasant it is to go to heaven.'

—New Haven has another quack doctor, this fellow left his wife after getting her to believe that she should not go, and now applies for a divorce, for which she appears to have reasonable grounds.

—The Mayville Bulletin is responsible for the assertion that "an old lady in that city, who was mindful of the old adage, that 'it takes a bushel of corn to fatten a hog's tail,' actually cut off the tail of her hog as a matter of economy."

—The Owensboro Monitor says: We are gratified to learn that the friends of the Owensboro and Russellville railroad, Sacramento presint, will soon have secured enough of their subscription, nearly that amount having already been raised.

—The Glasgow Times, of recent date, says: "Our special oil reporter gives us a glowing account of the new oil well put down last week by Messes. Chase & Wells, about four and a half miles from our town on Boyd's creek. It is a flowing well and produces about thirty barrels per day, the finest quality oil."

—This is the second flow, well that these gentlemen own on land owned by them, the first of which has steadily continued for several years about forty barrels per day.

—The Shely Sentinel of the 56th, says: "One of the most remarkable instances of eloquence of which we have ever heard, occurred at Harrisonville on Friday last. Harrison J. Whitehead left an interesting wife and six children and eloped with a woman, who is his senior, the mother of three children, with whom he has eloped, and the general told him he had better try it, 'how pleasant it is to go to heaven.'

—New Haven has another quack doctor, this fellow left his wife after getting her to believe that she should not go, and now applies for a divorce, for which she appears to have reasonable grounds.